

SYDE552/BIOL487 Vision Physiology Test

25 marks total

Held in the tutorial time on March 3.

In lieu of an assignment we will have a test on physiology of vision. The test will cover six lectures beginning around (approximately) Feb 4 and ending around Feb 23. It will be important both to attend these lectures and to study the corresponding readings (~125 pages total).

Important: If you begin the quiz, 25 of your marks will be for the quiz, i.e. you can't change your mind after you see the questions.

You must inform the professor by email that you would like to write the test, at least one week in advance. This is in case enough people want to write that a larger room is needed.
